TWO MORE VICTORIES CHALKED UP BY COACH ANDERSON'S BASKET-SHOOTERS

South Paris Trimmed 47-34

Gould Academy had little difficulty in downing South Paris on the local floor. The winners were all in tip top form with the exception of McNally, who seemed way off color. However, the rest of the team more than made up for his deficiency.

The winners put on a blasting start which found the Paris five on the short end of a 14-2 count at the end of the first period. This big lead proved too much for the visitors and although they staged a number of rallies they were never able to cut down that substantial initial lead.

After a rather poor first half, Gould suddenly blossomed out with some sensational scoring in the last half, piling up 11 points in the two periods.

For the losers, Brown, of football punting fame, proved himself also a basket tossing star with 17 points to his credit. Gray also played well for South Paris until he was removed with four personal fouls in the third period.

The Gould Second team avenged a defeat handed them a week earlier by trouncing the South Paris seconds in a free scoring game which ended 44-23. Glover, Berry and Hamlin scored five baskets apiece to win from the visitors.

The score of the varsity game by periods:

Wilton Victim of 30-23 Game

Gould Academy traveled to Wilton last Friday to win its ninth game in 12 starts. It was a bitterly contested game on a small floor with a low ceiling, which handicapped the locals a great deal.

Wilton Academy centered its attention on strong defensive play in an effort to stop the scoring of the Blue and Gold. Their efforts were well rewarded, for in the first five minutes neither team scored, but just before the quarter ended Brown and Allen dropped baskets to lead 4 to 1 as the period ended. Defense proved the chief tactic of both teams during the second period with Gould gaining a small lead. The half ended 11-7.

On the first tip-off of the third period Gould recovered the ball and sank a neat goal. Brown soon followed with another which gave the winners a lead never threatened although Gould seemed unable to stay more than five or six points ahead at any time.

The losers put up a game fight and spurred on by a line cheering section they kept the game always at top speed. Farnum, Wilton center, led his mates, scoring 10 of their 23 points.

Frank Robertson attended a meeting of Firestone dealers at Portland the first of the week.

OXFORD POMONA

Oxford Pomona held an interesting meeting with Franklin Grange at Bryant Pond Tuesday with a good attendance. The fifth degree was conferred on a class of candidates in a creditable manner. On motion by L. E. McInnis, Oxford Pomona voted to uphold the economy program at State Legislature and that it is imperative that it be carried out. The auxiliary forest law was discussed to some extent and G. W. Q. Perham was chosen to attend the hearing on the bill and to use his influence for the repeal of this law.

Following dinner served by Franklin Grange a roll call of Granges found the following representation: Paris Grange, 31; Norway, 10; Bethel, 8; Bear Mountain, 9; Franklin, 8; Round Mountain, 1; Bear River, 9; West Paris, 10; Mountain View, 2; Waterford, 2; Pleasant Pond, 5; and one visitor from Winthrop Grange.

The lecturer presented the following program: Music by Franklin Grange orchestra with encore; address of welcome, Edward Perham, master of Franklin Grange; response by Mrs. Adelle Saunders, chaplain of Oxford Pomona; harmonica music by three brothers; recitation, Bernard Cushman; vocal solo, Merle Ring; all responded to encores; news items, Annie Davis and Ella Day; D. L. Clement of the Department of Agriculture gave a talk on improving the home grounds; address by the orchestra.

The next meeting will be with West Paris Grange, Tuesday, March 7.

CROWDED HOUSE ASSURED FOR LEGION MINSTRELS AT ODEON HALL TOMORROW

Seal for the American Legion minstrel show to be presented at Odeon Hall tomorrow night are going fast. They were put on sale last week at Bosserman's drug store and it is safe to predict that every seat will be sold before the curtain rises. The fact that this program will be given only one night, and the low prices of 85 cents and 25 cents, account for the unusual interest. Those acquainted with local theatricals are aware of the feverish activity of late, and from various hints dropped by some of the participants we are positive of receiving our money's worth in a long evening of merriment.

The entire production is clean and wholesome, replete with local hits, jokes, songs, dances, vocal selections, a banjo trio, cornet solo, and selections by the Bluebird Orchestra. It has been necessary to make slight changes in the cast as published in last week's Citizen and printed on the programs, but in no way has the standard of the entertainment been lowered.

Mrs. Erma Young, who has coached the minstrel and served as coach and accompanist for the chorus and specialties, has been untiring in giving her time and talent. Donald Kellogg, of the Gould Academy, is coaching the one-act farce, "Henry's Mail Order Wife." The names of the coaches were unintentionally omitted from the printed programs.

ANOTHER DISPATCH

Congregational Parish, February 14, 1933

To the Citizen:

Preparations for the Chicken Pie Supper, referred to last week, go merrily on. Twenty-five chickens have already been pledged as the result of last week's notice. The first was an eight pounder, promised by Niles Kellogg. Just think what a pie that chicken will make!

Neighbors adjacent to the home of Dr. Tibbets are awakened early these mornings by the crowing of milk-fed roosters confined in his stable, and Herman Mason is keeping his barn chickens locked in order that contraband chickens roosting there may not be discovered.

Parson Edwards has followed the lead of Fred Merrill and Prof. Hanscom and has promised pumpkin pies of his own private brand. Fifty pies are needed, and every man who makes any pretense of piety is requested to make his contribution. Bert Rowe is the Great Mogul of the pie department and would be glad to receive your pledge before he has time to make a requisition.

The Entertainment Committee is working behind closed doors, but from a conversation accidentally overheard, your reporter has learned that a feature of the program will be a Beauty Show. It seems that a few of the beholders wish to present for the approval (or disapproval) of the audience a few types of feminine beauty and feminine dress that meet their ideal. Hence, if you wish to behold different models of feminine perfection, as interpreted through the eyes of Fred Merrill, Dr. Hood, Wilbur Myers, Gordon Lathrop, and others, you will not miss this feature. It is rumored that Ernest Walker has asked permission to present a candidate in this contest, and who could possibly be a better candidate than he? It would not be at all surprising if many unattached females of Bethel and vicinity chance their way of dress after seeing this exhibit.

We expect to give you more detailed information next week.

MUNICIPAL OFFICERS BACK SEAVEY BILL

ASSOCIATION HELD MEETING AT MAPLE INN, BETHEL, MONDAY

—LOUIS A. JACK, SPEAKER

The winter meeting of the Oxford County Association of Municipal Officers was held at Maple Inn, Monday. Over 20 municipal officers were in attendance and others present included Senator Waldo N. Seavey of Lovell, Representative Albert H. Russ of Woodstock, and Louis A. Jack of Lisbon Falls who was the after dinner speaker. Lon E. Wright of Newry presided.

The association unanimously approved a resolution favoring the Seavey highway bill now before the Legislature and approved the State budget as submitted by Governor Brann. Other subjects discussed were the repeal of the Auxiliary Forest Law and Public Utilities Commission regulation of motor truck freight.

Mr. Jack's address was on the subject of Taxation, stressing the under-taxation of electrical companies. He said in part:

"The Constitution of Maine says under Art. 9, Sec. 8: 'essential to validity of all taxation that it be assessed and apportioned with equality and uniformity.' Such is not the situation in Maine. The average tax rate in 1931 amounted to 44 mills and a fraction. It is a well-known fact that farms are assessed for 50% to 75% of their value.

"In 1930 the power companies total assets were $105,994,700.75 and they were assessed on a little more than one-fifth of their admitted value. The Central Maine Power Company paid 15 mills on a dollar, the Cumberland County Power and Light Company paid 15 mills on a dollar, the Bangor Hydro Electric Company paid 10 mills on a dollar. If all the power companies were assessed 50% valuation at the average rate of 44 mills, the increase to the State per year would be around $1,110,779.49.

The principle of taxation is usually followed in to pick the goose that will give out the least squawks. Has not the farmer been the goose long enough, or in other words, should he not begin squawking loud enough to attract attention?"

If all the power companies were assessed 50% valuation at the average rate of 44 mills, the increase to the State per year would be around $1,110,779.49.

The principle of taxation is usually followed in to pick the goose that will give out the least squawks. Has not the farmer been the goose long enough, or in other words, should he not begin squawking loud enough to attract attention?"

It was pointed out that the power companies are assessed for 50% to 75% of their value. The average tax rate in 1931 amounted to 44 mills and a fraction. It is a well-known fact that farms are assessed for 50% to 75% of their value.

In 1930 the power companies total assets were $105,994,700.75 and they were assessed on a little more than one-fifth of their admitted value. The Central Maine Power Company paid 15 mills on a dollar, the Cumberland County Power and Light Company paid 15 mills on a dollar, the Bangor Hydro Electric Company paid 10 mills on a dollar. If all the power companies were assessed 50% valuation at the average rate of 44 mills, the increase to the State per year would be around $1,110,779.49.

CANADA'S LIQUOR CONTROL PLAN NOT SO GOOD

In a communication to the Editor of the Livermore Falls Advertiser, a reader sets forth the opinions of some prominent Canadian authorities on the workings of Canada's liquor control plan:

If the Eighteenth Amendment is to be repealed what is to take its place that is better? Many Wets favor the Canadian government control plan. Before we adopt it, let us see how it works.

Dr. Jennie Smilie, chairman of the Liquor Investigating Committee of Canada says: "Under the system of government control of liquor in Canada drinking among women is on the increase because of the accessibility of liquor in the home. This not only debauches womanhood, but endangers the lives and destroys the morals of the children. There is no greater danger to a nation than drinking among its women."

The Montreal Star says that under government control in Canada "drunkenness among women has increased 53 per cent."

The Dominion government at Ottawa states: "Arrests for drunken driving increased 1,500 per cent in six years; alcoholic deaths doubled."

The Alberta Liquor Board report shows increased drinking: "60,000 permits issued the first year, 144,000 two years later."

"In 1920" when Canada was partially dry, "there were four distilleries and 57 breweries; in 1931, 27 distilleries, 85 breweries—all privately owned and operated," independently of government plants.

The Saskatchewan Liquor Board reported an increase of 111 per cent in bootlegging the first year.

The British Columbia Liquor Board reported: "As much liquor is sold by bootleggers as is sold in the government stores."

The Minneapolis Journal says editorially: "The mayor of Winnipeg finds conditions there a thousand times worse than under prohibition."

GOINGS ON IN MAINE

By Leon G. Cates

A bill has been presented which, if passed, will require each city or town to pay the cost of any of its citizens committed to the State Institutions. The per capita cost for each patient in the Augusta State Hospital is $5.40—in the Bangor State Hospital it is $6.50—and at the Pownall State School for feeble minded it is $6.57. It seems doubtful if the above mentioned bill will pass—but while we are on the subject, here are some figures for you to ponder on. The Augusta State Hospital was founded in 1836—it has 479 acres of land—the inmate capacity is 850—last year, the average per day was over 1240—the value of the plant is $2,204,033.71—it takes about $350,000.00 per year to run it. The Bangor State Hospital was established in 1901—it has about 200 acres—the inmate capacity is 876—last year the average per day was over 950 patients—the value of the plant is $1,268,310.32—it takes about $325,000.00 per year to run it. The School for feeble minded at Pownall was founded in 1907—it has over 1200 acres of land—the inmate capacity is 810—last year, the average per day was 701—the value of the plant is $1,240,148.14—it takes about $280,000 a year to run it.

The first real fight on the floor of the House of the 86th Legislature occurred last week over the bill to change the time of the State of Maine biennial election from September to November, in conformity with the time of the elections of the other 47 States of the Union. This bill, you will remember, was a Democratic party pledge. But it was introduced by Representative Fernald, a republican, of Winterport. The committee reported the bill, "ought not to pass." But Fernald took the fight to the floor of the House where he was supported by all the Democrats, and enough Republicans to pass it by a vote of 96 to 50. The argument most generally used in support of this measure is, that by having our State and National elections together, every four years, we would save practically the cost of one election, or $50,000. This bill now goes to the Senate, and it seems doubtful if that body will concur with the House.

The bill presented by Senator Holmes, of Lewiston, to prevent issuance of labor injunctions without notice, came up for a hearing before the Judiciary Committee Tuesday. The only objector to the bill, to appear before the committee, was Benjamin F. Cleaves of Portland, representing the Associated Industries of Maine. His argument was that "two should not tell our courts to do, or not to do, certain things." He said "it would put our judges in a straight-jacket." George A. Robbier of Boston, outlined the purpose of the measure, which, he said had the support of the American Federation of Labor. He explained a "yellow dog" contract as a signed agreement between employee and employer, that the employee would not join a union. Robbier explained that injunctions against organized labor in cases of strikes had been issued "in 10 minutes without notice and without justification," and he said the bill, if enacted, would convince employers that they should first resort to other remedies, such as the police, or boards of arbitration. Senator Holmes, sponsor of the measure said Cleaves erred in saying that there had been but five strikes in Maine in the past 26 years—before he got through refreshing their memories about 15 strikes in the past 26 years were recalled.

William S. Owen, State Commissioner of Finance and Acting State Purchasing Agent, with his assistant, Leigh I. Harvey, appeared before the committee, and said that they approved the "principle" of the bill which would give the State Purchasing Agent the right to give two per cent preference to Maine bidders. Benjamin F. Cleaves also appeared in favor of this measure—he said it should be five per cent instead of two. Cleaves said that every bit of cement that went into the Carlton bridge at Bethel, came from Belgium.

A bill was presented by John Clark Seaton, Representative from Westbrook, for an issue of $2,000,000.00 for relief; subject to a referendum. Representative Sterling, of Caratunk, introduced a bill which would bar from employment by the State anyone whose combined pay from the State, and retired pay from the Federal Government, would total more than $2500.00. Bills have been introduced to close the Normal Schools at Gorham, Farmington, Presque Isle, Machias and Calais—they may close. Representative Piper, of Bangor, has introduced a bill calling for a board of moving picture censors. A bill that will be of interest to many a small business man in Maine, and to the farmers, was introduced by Representative Littlefield of Alfred. It called for increasing the registration fees on motor trucks, and to make the fee $25.00 on one to one and one half ton trucks—$40.00 on 1½ to 2 ton trucks—$60.00 on 2 to 2½ ton trucks.

Senator Jackson, of Cumberland, introduced a bill sponsoring the "Conscientious" tax plan—Mr. Jackson is chairman of the Committee on Taxation, and this bill would abolish the present system of fixing State valuation and assessment on that basis, and substitute collection of a percentage of the amount raised by each town or city for its own running expenses. Senator McDonald, of Washington County, introduced a measure which provides that Superintendents of State Hospitals, may, when requested by physicians, health officers, or the department of health and welfare, receive as a patient, for up to 15 days, anyone who needs care because of their mental condition. Senator Holmes of Lewiston introduced a bill which would set the time required to establish a pauper residence at one year. A hearing was held on Representative Farris' bill, which would require that the maintenance, or reconstruction of all bridges on the State Highway, shall be borne wholly by the State. At present, bridges, in cities of over 10,000 population are not maintained by the State, but by the city, even though they are on the main highway.

Representative Smith, of Vinal Haven, appeared before the committee, in favor of his bill to provide that the State shall refund to the towns of Vinal Haven and North Haven 75% of the motor registration fees paid into the State by the residents of those two towns. Smith explained that the two islands "are 12 miles out in the Atlantic Ocean," and there is only six miles of improved road in Vinal Haven, and that it cost $15.00 to get a car off the island and back again—he said there were about 250 cars on the island, and that "a ride on Vinal Haven is a merry-go-round." The "wets" and the "drys" were at it again last week at a committee hearing—the wets want the people to vote again on the State Prohibition Law—the drys are against a referendum. The people of Maine haven't had a chance to vote on their State Prohibition Law since 1911; 22 years; a vote to repeal the law was defeated at that time by only 768 votes.

Bone-Setters Honored

by Surgeons of Note

The practice of manipulative surgery, as bone-setting is now called, was known to the ancients. An interesting treatise on dislocation was written by no less a doctor than Hippocrates. There are said to have been successful bone-setters under the Roman Republic. Conservative surgery owes bone-setters a debt. When it was beginning to establish itself they were the only orthopedic surgeons. Apparently they were recognized as legitimate exponents of their branch of therapeutics. William Cheselden, a noted surgeon of the middle of the eighteenth century, sent thanks to the bone-setters, admitting that they were more competent than he to treat them.

A century later Sir James Paget urged his professional brethren, through the British Medical Journal, to "learn what was good in the methods of the bone-setter and exclude what was harmful." Still later, when Wood, another English doctor, who was greatly admired by Robert Hutton, a bone-setter, studied the latter's methods and after Hutton's death described them in the Lancet. The present should not forget what it owes to the past. The foundation of the modern science of surgery contains many crude stones.—Detroit Free Press.

City's Well-Being First

in Hearts of Athenians

It was because fifth century Athens was a city of men, in whose beautiful souls all her citizens shared, that she was greater in her creative achievements than the Italy that fell direct to her cultural treasures. In that first democracy men of ability vied in serving a civic ideal not for their own enrichment, but for the city's greater glory. So the rich Athenian seemed it an honor to finance the production of plays and public festivals shared in by all; so the theaters were made free to all citizens; so civic tasks were shared around among the whole electorate. For the pattern which Athens set for the world in democracy was of a society founded upon the well-being of the citizens as a whole, not of a society conducted in theory for the public and in reality for the hoary exploitation of special interests. That is why an ideal of beauty in life permeated Hellas from architecture to sports, from public festivals to philosophy. "Civic Duty," in the best of all titles.

THE MICE REJOICE

Maams McGo (after the tree was trimmed)—"Oh, won't the children be pleased when they find so many nice cheese balls on the tree."

Mrs. Emily Tainter of Dixfield celebrated her 88th birthday anniversary Tuesday, Feb. 14.

Senator Jackson, of Cumberland, introduced a bill sponsoring the "Conscientious" tax plan—Mr. Jackson is chairman of the Committee on Taxation, and this bill would abolish the present system of fixing State valuation and assessment on that basis, and substitute collection of a percentage of the amount raised by each town or city for its own running expenses. THE FINGER POINTS

In and Around Bethel

Gordon E. Lathrop

A Parking Problem
Parking problems seem to go with big cities. It is hard to imagine a parking problem in Bethel, situated as it is amidst great fields. But there is one, according to Frank Hunt, ex-deputy sheriff and resident of High Street. He says, "Come down, Gordon, any time the academy is in session, and see the way the cars are parked on High Street while their drivers are at school. Right now there is only a narrow road plowed down High Street, and the cars butt out into it so that only with difficulty can anyone going through get by." Now, we know that Mr. Hunt isn't stretching the truth a bit. In our wanderings we have had occasion to notice how many Good students are driving to and from studies. And they aren't at all careful about getting into the drifts and out of the road. The time is coming when a parking place will be as much of a requirement in high school equipment as a gymnasium or an athletic field.

Three Articles For the Corporation Warrant

There are three articles that might go in the corporation warrant to be voted on this year. The first should be a motion to rescind the ordinance which says that automobiles parking on Main Street should park lengthwise, "with both right wheels as near the curb as possible." It is foolish to have an ordinance on the books that is disregarded so openly and is not enforced in the slightest. The second article should be one that makes it illegal to park within ten feet of a hydrant. An interesting sidelight was given us on this argument the other day. If a car is parked next to a hydrant (which is lawful at present) and a fire breaks out so that it is necessary to move the car to get at the hydrant, then the corporation is liable for damages to that car if it is hurt in moving it away. There is almost an unwritten law against parking in front of a hydrant. But it will have to be written into the statutes before Bethel hydrants lose their attraction as "fishing posts." The third article would be one that makes High Street a sliding place for the kids (in season), safe from automobiles. That would mean closing Elm Street when the coasting is good. For a few hours each day. That wouldn't be a whole lot of bother. None of these articles call for money. They wouldn't mean raising your tax. They should be given consideration.

The First Selectman Explains About the Bridge Lights

According to Frank Brown, selectman-in-charge of the town of Bethel, the town has been forking over, coughing up, or whatever you will, the sum of four dollars a month to keep four lights burning on the new bridge across the Androscoggin. Being more observant than "The Finger Point," Mr. Brown has noticed on different occasions that one, two, or three, or all four lights have been burned out. And so he asked himself why the town should pay for light that it wasn't getting. He had a talk with the light man, who told him that boys were burning the lamps (though the globes were intact). Well, anyhow, he selectmen ordered the lights shut off, thus saving the town $48 per year for which it wasn't getting a fair return. A lot more little economies like that this year might bring the town tax down in the lower thirty mill rate next year. Keep it up, Mr. Brown!
